

Certificate in Social and Political TheoryMA

- Europe against Europe, 1914-1945: Julian Casanova (2 credit course, Fall)
- Foundations of Political Philosophy: Zoltán Miklósi (2 credit course, Fall)
- Introduction to Political Philosophy: Justice and Equality: Andrés Moles (4 credit course, Fall)
- Cosmopolitanism and Global Justice: Zoltán Miklósi (4 credit course, Fall)
- Social Movements and Social Contention: Bela Greskovits (2 credit course, Fall)
- Transitional Justice: Nenad Dimitrijevic (4 credit course, Fall)
- GENS: Gendered Memories of Holocaust: Andrea Peto (4 credit course, Fall)
- PHIL: Killing: Andres Moles (4 credit course, Fall)
- PHIL: Philosophy of Social Science: various faculty (2 credit course, Fall)
- Constituent Power: Nenad Dimitrijevic (4 credit course, Winter)
- Constitutionalism and Democracy: Nenad Dimitrijevic (4 credit course, Winter)
- Introduction to Contemporary Political Philosophy: Zoltán Miklósi (4 credit course, Winter)
- Modern Political Thought: Andres Moles (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Theory II – Cognitive Science and Policy Making: Andres Moles, Christophe Heintz (4 credit course, Winter)
- Utopian Literature: Zsolt Czigányik (2 credit course, Winter)

PhD

- Democratic Theory: Tamás Meszerics (4 credit course, Fall)
- Advanced Methods – Discourse Analysis: Lea Sgier (2 credit course, Winter)
- Marx, Durkheim and Weber as Comparative Political Theorists: Herbert Kitschelt (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Equality: Zoltan Miklosi (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Sociology and Political Economy: Andras Bozoki and Attila Folsz (4 credit course, Winter)
- PHIL: Advanced Political Philosophy II – Theory of Justice: János Kis (4 credit course, Winter)

Certificate in Comparative PoliticsMA

- Analyzing Democracy: Carsten Schneider (2 credit course, Fall)
- Comparative European Politics: Anton Pelinka (4 credit course, Fall)
- Comparative Political Research: Carsten Schneider (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Change: Evolution and Revolution: András Bozóki (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Parties and Party Systems: Zsolt Enyedi (4 credit course, Fall)
- Questions of Resistance and Collaboration: Tamás Meszerics (4 credit course, Fall)
- Federal Systems – The US, the EU and India in comparison: Anton Pelinka (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Welfare State in a Comparative Perspective: Júlia Szalai (2 credit course, Winter)

Winter)

- Topics and Methods in Comparative Politics: Zsolt Enyedi (4 credit course, Winter)
- Voting Behaviour: Gabor Toka (4 credit course, Winter)

PhD

- Political Institutions: Zsolt Enyedi (4 credit course, Fall)
- Democracy in and of Europe – Macro & Meso, National & Supranational: Philippe Schmitter (2 credit course, Winter)
- Marx, Durkheim and Weber, as Comparative Political Theorists: Herbert Kitschelt (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Dynamics – Comparative Regime Change: Carsten Schneider (4 credit course, Winter)
- Set-Theoretic Methods for the Social Sciences: Carsten Schneider (2 credit course, Winter)
- ECON: Network Science: Albert-Laszlo Barabasi (2 credit course, Spring)

Certificate in Political Economy

MA

- Concepts in Political Economy: Attila Fölsz (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Economy I: Capitalism and Democracy: Borbála Kovács (2 credit course, Fall)
- Politics of European Integration: Attila Fölsz (4 credits course, Fall)
- Social Movements and Social Contention: Béla Greskovits (2 credit course, Fall)
- DPP: Global Economic Inequalities: Thomas Fetzer (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Economy II: Andrija Henjak, Balázs Váradi (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Economy of Policy Reforms (in EE): Attila Fölsz (2 credit course, Winter)
- Politics of Labour in Europe: Andrija Henjak (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Political Economy of Development: Borbála Kovács (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Political Economy of the Welfare State: Borbála Kovács (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Welfare State in Comparative Perspective: Júlia Szalai (2 credit course, Winter)
- IRES: The New Political Economy of Emerging Europe: László Csaba (4 credit course, Winter)
- Politics of Public Finance Management: Andres Mejia Acosta (2 credit course, Spring)

PhD

- IPE States, Classes, and Industries in the International Political Economy: Béla Greskovits (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Sociology and Political Economy: Andras Bozoki and Attila Folsz (4 credit course, Winter)

Certificate in Political CommunicationMA

- Contemporary Political Ideologies: András Bozóki (4 credit course, Fall)
- Social Movements and Social Contention: Béla Greskovits (2 credit course, Fall)
- CNCS: Fundamental Ideas in Network Science: Janos Kertesz (4 credit course, Fall)
- Research Seminar in Political Data Analysis: Gabor Toka (1 credit course, Fall-Winter)
- Information, Decision Making and Foreign Policy: Tamás Meszerics (4 credits course, Winter)
- New Tools of Citizen Participation and Democratic Accountability: Marina Popescu (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Communication: Marina Popescu (4 credit course, Winter)
- Qualitative Research Methods: Lea Sgier (4 credits course, Winter)
- Text Analysis for the Political Sciences: Roel Popping (2 credit course, Winter)
- Voting Behavior: Gábor Toka (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Communication and Deliberation: Andre Baechtiger (2 credit course, Spring)

PhD

- Survey Methodology: Tamás Rudas (2 credit course, Fall)
- Advanced Methods: Discourse Analysis: Lea Sgier (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Equality: Zoltán Miklósi (2 credit, Winter)
- ECON: Network Science: Albert-László Barabási (2 credit course, Spring)

Certificate in Electoral PoliticsMA

- Analyzing Democracy: Carsten Schneider (2 credit course, Fall)
- Comparative Political Research: Carsten Schneider (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Parties and Party Systems: Zsolt Enyedi (4 credit course, Fall)
- Research Seminar in Political Data Analysis (1 credit course, Fall-Winter)
- Legislative Politics: Tamas Meszerics (4 credit course, Winter)
- New Tools of Citizen Participation and Democratic Accountability: Marina Popescu (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Communication: Marina Popescu (4 credit course, Winter)
- Qualitative Research Methods: Lea Sgier (4 credits course, Winter)
- Text Analysis for the Political Sciences: Roel Popping (2 credit course, Winter)
- Voting Behavior: Gábor Toka (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Communication and Deliberation: Andre Baechtiger (2 credit course, Spring)

PhD

- Survey Methodology: Tamás Rudas (2 credit course, Fall)

- Advanced Methods: Missing Data Problems in Statistical Inference – Item and Unit Nonresponse, Ecological and Causal Inferences: Levente Littvay (2 credit course, Winter)
- Democracy in and of Europe: Macro & Meso, National & Supranational: Philippe Schmitter (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Dynamics – Comparative Regime Change: Carsten Schneider (4 credit course, Winter)
- Set-Theoretic Methods for the Social Sciences: Carsten Schneider (2 credit course, Winter)

Certificate in Political Research Methodology

MA

- Analyzing Democracy: Carsten Schneider (2 credit course, Fall)
- Quantitative Methods: Analyzing Countries: Levente Littvay (4 credit course, Fall)
- Quantitative Methods: Analyzing People: Levente Littvay (4 credit course, Fall)
- Scope and Methods: Gabor Toka, Marina Popescu and Róbert Sata (2 credit course, Fall)
- CNCS: Fundamental Ideas in Network Science: Janos Kertesz (4 credit course, Fall)
- Research Seminar in Political Data Analysis: Gabor Toka (1 credit course, Fall-Winter)
- Multivariate Statistics: Tamás Rudas (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Theory II – Cognitive Science and Policy Making: Andres Moles and Christophe Heintz (4 credit course, Winter)
- Qualitative Research Methods: Lea Sgier (4 credits course, Winter)
- Text Analysis for the Political Sciences: Roel Popping (2 credit course, Winter)
- Voting Behavior: Gábor Toka (4 credit course, Winter)

PhD

- Mathematical Statistics: Tamas Rudas (2 credit course, Fall)
- Research Methods and Design: Erin Jenne (4 credit course, Fall)
- Survey Methodology: Tamás Rudas (2 credit course, Fall)
- Advanced Methods: Discourse Analysis: Lea Sgier (2 credit course, Winter)
- Advanced Methods: Missing Data Problems in Statistical Inference – Item and Unit Nonresponse, Ecological and Causal Inferences: Levente Littvay (2 credit course, Winter)
- Democracy in and of Europe: Macro & Meso, National & Supranational: Philippe Schmitter (2 credit course, Winter)
- Set-Theoretic Methods for the Social Sciences: Carsten Schneider (2 credit course, Winter)
- ECON: Network Science: Albert-Laszlo Barabasi (2 credit course, Spring)

Certificate in Comparative European PoliticsMA

- Analyzing Democracy: Carsten Schneider (2 credit course, Fall)
- Comparative European Politics: Anton Pelinka (4 credit course, Fall)
- Comparative Political Research: Carsten Schneider (4 credit course, Fall)
- Europe against Europe, 1914-1945: Julian Casanova (2 credit course, Fall)
- Political Change: Evolution and Revolution: András Bozóki (4 credit course, Fall)
- Politics of European Integration: Attila Fölsz (4 credit course, Fall)
- Questions of Resistance and Collaboration: Tamás Meszerics (4 credit course, Fall)
- Federal Systems – The US, the EU and India in Comparison: Anton Pelinka (4 credit course, Winter)
- Legislative Politics: Tamas Meszerics (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Economy of Policy Reforms (in EE): Attila Fölsz (2 credit course, Winter)
- Topics and Methods in Comparative Politics: Zsolt Enyedi (4 credit course, Winter)
- IRES: The New Political Economy of Emerging Europe: László Csaba (4 credit course, Winter)
- Politics of Public Finance Management: Andres Mejia Acosta (2 credit course, Spring)

PhD

- Political Institutions: Zsolt Enyedi (4 credit course, Fall)
- Democracy in and of Europe – Macro & Meso, National & Supranational: Philippe Schmitter (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Dynamics – Comparative Regime Change: Carsten Schneider (4 credit course, Winter)

Certificate in Post-Communist PoliticsMA

- Analyzing Democracy: Carsten Schneider (2 credit course, Fall)
- Contemporary Political Ideologies: András Bozóki (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Change: Evolution and Revolution: András Bozóki (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Economy I: Capitalism and Democracy: Borbála Kovács (2 credit course, Fall)
- Politics of European Integration: Attila Fölsz (4 credit course, Fall)
- Questions of Resistance and Collaboration: Tamas Meszerics (4 credit course, Fall)
- Transitional Justice: Nenad Dimitrijevic (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Economy of Policy Reforms (in EE): Attila Fölsz (2 credit course, Winter)
- Politics of Labor in Europe: Andrija Henjak (4 credit course, Winter)
- States, Networks, and Power in post-Soviet Politics: Matteo Fumagalli (4 credit course, Winter)

- course, Winter)
- The Political Economy of Development: Borbala Kovacs (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Political Economy of the Welfare State: Borbala Kovacs (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Welfare State in a Comparative Perspective: Júlia Szalai (2 credit course, Winter)
- IRES: The New Political Economy of Emerging Europe: László Csaba (4 credit course, Winter)

PhD

- Political Institutions: Zsolt Enyedi (4 credit course, Fall)
- Democracy in and of Europe – Macro & Meso, National & Supranational: Philippe Schmitter (2 credit course, Winter)
- Marx, Durkheim and Weber as Comparative Political Theorists: Herbert Kitschelt (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Dynamics – Comparative Regime Change: Carsten Schneider (4 credit course, Winter)

Certificate in Public Policy

MA

- Political Economy I: Capitalism and Democracy: Borbala Kovacs (2 credit course, Fall)
- Politics of European Integration: Attila Folsz (4 credit course, Fall)
- Questions of Resistance and Collaboration: Tamás Meszerics (4 credit course, Fall)
- Social Movement and Social Contention: Bela Greskovits (2 credit course, Fall)
- DPP: Global Economic Inequalities: Thomas Fetzer (4 credit course, Fall)
- Information, Decision Making and Foreign Policy: Tamás Meszerics (4 credit course, Winter)
- Legislative Politics: Tamás Meszerics (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Economy II: Andrija Henjak and Balazs Varadi (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Economy of Policy Reforms (in EE): Attila Fölsz (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Theory II – Cognitive Science and Policy Making (4 credit course, Winter)
- Politics of Labor in Europe: Andrija Henjak (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Political Economy of Development: Borbala Kovacs (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Political Economy of the Welfare State: Borbala Kovacs (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Welfare State in a Comparative Perspective: Júlia Szalai (2 credit course, Winter)
- Politics of Public Finance Management: Andres Mejia Acosta (2 credit course, Spring)

PhD

- Political Institutions: Zsolt Enyedi (4 credit course, Fall)

Certificate in Constitutional PoliticsMA

- Cosmopolitanism and Global Justice: Zoltán Miklósi (4 credit course, Fall)
- Political Change: Evolution and Revolution: András Bozóki (4 credit course, Fall)
- Transitional Justice: Nenad Dimitrijevic (4 credit course, Fall)
- Constituent Power: Nenad Dimitrijevic (4 credit course, Winter)
- Constitutionalism and Democracy: Nenad Dimitrijevic (4 credit course, Winter)
- Federal Systems – The US, the EU and India in Comparison: Anton Pelinka (4 credit course, Winter)
- Legislative Politics: Tamás Meszerics (4 credit course, Winter)
- New Tools of Citizen Participation and Democratic Accountability: Marina Popescu (4 credit course, Winter)
- Political Economy of Policy Reforms (in EE): Attila Fölsz (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Theory II – Cognitive Science and Policy Making: Andres Moles and Christophe Heintz (4 credit course, Winter)
- The Welfare State in a Comparative Perspective: Júlia Szalai (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Communication and Deliberation: Andre Baechtiger (2 credit course, Spring)

PhD

- Democratic Theory: Tamás Meszerics (4 credit course, Fall)
- Democracy in and of Europe - Macro & Meso, National & Supranational: Philippe Schmitter (2 credit course, Winter)
- Marx, Durkheim and Weber as Comparative Political Theorists: Herbert Kitschelt (2 credit course, Winter)
- Political Equality: Zoltan Miklosi (2 credit course, Winter)
- PHIL: Advanced Political Philosophy II: Theory of Justice: János Kis (4 credit course, Winter)